Youth Conference Focuses on the Eucharist and the Beauty of Catholicism

The teens clap for the live rock band.

The whole group! Tom Oram, Jonathan Farrell, Allison MacDougall, Andrea Pilavis, Emily Anton, Riley Heslin, McKayla Galvin, Katie Miller, Frannie Nuncio, Gabby Forte, Katie Miller, Maddie Miller and Zach MacDougall.

Allison MacDougall takes the "pledge of accountability" - to have fun!

Martha Oram and the girls.

Teens attended Mass and at least an hour of Adoration every day.

Over three days, the youth heard talks from great Catholic speakers, enjoyed live concerts from a Catholic praise band, and spent time in Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament. Everyone in our group went to Confession and through small group meetings discussed ways to grow deeper in their faith. Each day was long — from about 8:00 a.m. until 11:00 p.m.! Despite this, they enjoyed staying up late back at the hotel, talking about their experiences from the day (Tom and I enjoyed this part a little less than they did...). Tom and I were blessed to witness how God worked in their lives this weekend. Our SJE youth truly are a sign of great hope in this world.

Thank you to everyone who believed in them and contributed so that they could go on this trip. We are so grateful!

Help Save Our Religious Freedom

Text “Freedom” to 377377
to defend your right to live your faith.

As Catholics we are constantly called to live out our faith in our daily lives. In our charities, we comfort the sick, feed the hungry, care for the poor, and protect life. In the marketplace, our values guide us. We strive everywhere to practice what we preach.

Across America, our right to live out our faith is being threatened - from Washington forcing Catholic institutions to provide services that contradict our beliefs, to state governments prohibiting our charities from serving the most vulnerable. And around the world, it's even worse - Catholics face persecution and even death for their witness.

These rights are fundamental. They belong to each and every human being. We cannot let them be trampled. We cannot remain silent.

Please join the movement to protect our right to live out our faith. Sign up to learn how you can help save our religious freedom.

FORTNIGHT FOR FREEDOM

FORTNIGHT4FREEDOM.ORG

What do we mean by religious liberty? Religious liberty is the first liberty granted to us by God and protected in the First Amendment to our Constitution. It includes more than our ability to go to Mass on Sunday or pray the Rosary at home. It also encompasses our ability to contribute freely to the common good of all Americans. (Ex. Churches contribution to Education, Hospitals, Social Services, etc.)

What is the First Amendment? The First Amendment of the U.S. Bill of Rights states the following: “Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.”

The United States Conference of Catholic Bishops offers six facts regarding the Health and Human Services (HHS) regulations on mandatory coverage of contraceptives, sterilization and abortion-inducing drugs.

The federal mandate is much more sweeping than existing state mandates. Employers can generally avoid the contraceptive mandates in 28 states by self-insuring their prescription drug coverage, dropping that part of their coverage altogether, or opting for regulation under a federal law (ERISA) that pre-empts state law. The HHS mandate closes off all these avenues of relief. HHS’ policy of mandating surgical sterilization coverage is reflected in only one state law; Vermont. HHS also chose as its model the narrowest state-level religious exemption, drafted by the ACLU and existing in only 3 states (New York, California, Oregon).

(See additional facts in upcoming bulletins.)

Mary Immaculate
Patroness of Our Country
Pray for Us

Prayer For the Protection of Religious Liberty

O God our Creator, from your provident hand we have received our right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. You have called us as your people and given us the right and the duty to worship you, the only true God, and your Son, Jesus Christ. Through the power and working of your Holy Spirit, you call us to live out our faith in the midst of the world, bringing the light and the saving truth of the Gospel to every corner of society.

We ask you to bless us in our vigilance for the gift of religious liberty. Give us the strength of mind and heart to readily defend our freedoms when they are threatened; give us courage in making our voices heard on behalf of the rights of your Church and the freedom of conscience of all people of faith.

Grant, we pray, O heavenly Father, a clear and united voice to all your sons and daughters gathered in your Church in this decisive hour in the history of our nation, so that, with every trial withstood and every danger overcome —for the sake of our children, our grandchildren, and all who come after us — this great land will always be “one nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.” We ask this through Christ our Lord. Amen.

FORTNIGHT FOR RELIGIOUS FREEDOM

THURSDAY, JUNE 21 THROUGH WEDNESDAY, JULY 4

What is it? A two-week period of fasting, prayer, and action to reverse the growing discrimination against people of faith in this country, especially Catholics, exemplified by the notorious mandate of the Department of Health and Human Services that Catholic institutions must effectively pay for abortion-inducing drugs, contraception, and sterilization — all of which have always been contrary to the teaching of the Church.

What is meant by religious liberty? Religious liberty is the first liberty granted to us by God and protected in the First Amendment to our Constitution. It includes more than our ability to go to Mass on Sunday or pray the Rosary at home. It encompasses our ability to refrain from activity that we disagree with, and to refuse to pay for such activity for others, as is the case here. Forced cooperation with immorality violates our ability to live our faith.

Isn't this a violation of "the separation of church and state"? No. More technically — yes — but it is the state that is violating the separation by demanding the Church to do things contrary to our beliefs. To say that "the separation of church and state" (which does not even appear in our Constitution) allows the state to strike the Church with impunity — as it has & is doing — and that we, in turn, can do nothing about it, is obviously ludicrous.

What are we doing here at St. John to observe the Fortnight? We will be marking the opening and closing of the Fortnight with the tolling of our bells at noon. Then, over the two weeks:

- There will be a Holy Hour of Eucharistic Adoration each day from June 21 through July 4, in the Church, after each daily Mass (Monday through Saturday) and on Sunday following the 5 p.m. Mass. There will be Exposition & Benediction, as well as the Rosary.
- The Prayer for the Protection of Religious Liberty, found at the bottom of the page, will be prayed before each Mass. Prayer cards will also be provided with the same prayer text (prayer card photo is on page 6).
- Friday, June 22 & Friday, June 29 are days of penance, where we make some form of reparation, such as fasting (1 regular and 2 smaller meals), or abstinence from meat.
- We are asked to join fellow Catholic Americans in making a Novena (a nine-day personal prayer) for religious freedom from Tuesday, June 26 through Wednesday, July 4.

How do I make a Novena? A good way to approach it is each morning — before you get too busy with your day — make time to pray each day for nine days.

- In these, or the words of your own heart, pray:
- Oh great cloud of witnesses! Oh host of Angels and Saints worshiping God for all eternity! Oh holy ones in heaven above, Pray for us! You who were once part of the Church on earth, you who were faithful servants of the Church Militant, you who suffered for the love of God, Pray for us! In all ages, the Church is persecuted and hated. We pray, oh Lord, through your holy Saints, that we may be blessed with the freedom to worship and adore you at all times! We pray that you may bless your Church throughout the world and me personally with your grace to persevere with love in the face of persecution just as You did on the Cross.
- Mention your personal intentions. Then in a litany, call upon the saints & martyrs by name, asking, "Pray for us!" (example: St. Joan of Arc, pray for us! Holy Innocents, pray for us! St. Thomas More, pray for us! Etc.)
- Pray an Our Father, a Hail Mary and a Glory Be.
- Conclude with the Prayer For the Protection of Religious Liberty (see page 6)

JULY 1, 2012 THIRTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Tropical Storm Debbie did quite a number on the State of Florida. Although we had two confirmed tornadoes in Collier County, the damage here was very minimal. What we did receive was much needed rainfall. Depending on your location, rainfall totals were upwards of six inches for the week-long event.

You will notice that our lake has partially re-hydrated due to the runoff, which is great news as prior to this storm it was lower than I have seen it in recent memory. This is especially important as we irrigate our campus with the water in the lake. Levels were so low that sand and muck was being sucked up in the lines and causing many of the valves to malfunction. The non-irrigated grass parking areas also received a shot of moisture that has allowed what was previously dirt to become grass (or weeds) once again. As I write my column, Debbie still has not made landfall, which means that we will still receive rain bands through this past Thursday.

On behalf of the clergy and staff at St. John the Evangelist, I would like to wish everyone a very safe and happy Independence Day holiday. Every year at this time, I always ponder our recognition of Independence Day. The Fourth of July is a holiday that most Americans celebrate for various reasons. The festivity may involve family, friends and of course a fireworks display. Popular culture would have you believe that the gala is a birthday party for the country. Flags wave, bands march and bystanders cheer. The parades are pageants, visible spectacles for all to applaud and enjoy. After the confetti blows away, what is the meaning of the day? Commemoration of the Declaration of Independence should be the primary reason for the remembrance. Other than historically conscious traditionalists who understand the nature of the Republic, very few perceive the real purpose of the founding of America.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal,
that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights,
that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.

Above are the famous words written by Thomas Jefferson that laid the cornerstone of the United States of America. The Declaration of Independence was drafted by Thomas Jefferson with only minor participation by a committee that included John Adams, Benjamin Franklin, Roger Sherman and Robert Livingston, pursuant to a resolution of the Second Continental Congress. It was adopted by Congress on July 4, 1776.

Looking to John Adams' famous letter of July 3, 1776, to his wife Abigail will put the celebration into perspective:

“The Second Day of July 1776, will be the most memorable Epocha, in the History of America. I am apt to believe that it will be celebrated, by succeeding Generations, as the great anniversary Festival. It ought to be commemorated, as the Day of Deliverance by solemn Acts of Devotion to God Almighty. It ought to be solemnized with Pomp and Parade, with Shews, Games, Sports, Guns, Bells, Bonfires and Illuminations from one End of this Continent to the other from this Time forward forever more. You will think me transported with Enthusiasm but I am not. I am well aware of the Toil and Blood and Treasure, that it will cost Us to maintain this Declaration, and support and defend these States. Yet through all the Gloom I can see the Rays of ravishing Light and Glory. I can see that the End is more than worth all the Means. And that Posterity will triumph in that Days Transaction, even altho We should rue it, which I trust in God We shall not.” (The Book of Abigail and John: Selected Letters of the Adams Family, 1762-1784, Harvard University Press, 1975, 142).

The intention of the remembrance is to memorialize the Declaration of Independence. But the meaning of the word, and certainly the idea of independence, is routinely ignored and often purged from the gala. A party for the sake of enjoyment snubs the solemn legacy of the founders. Yet, those who rally their attention on patriotic fervor, make an even more profound error.

The basic distinction between establishing independence, which is a prime essential to live out liberty and nationalistic allegiance, risks a fundamental disconnect in the purpose of a consensual union. The American Revolution was fought against a monarchy that prohibited basic rights of all Englishmen. The original thirteen colonies sought to become independent states, no longer under the boot of George III and the British Crown. The goal for the rebellion was to gain self-government, for each colony and to establish a state sovereignty for each commonwealth. The union that evolved and formed after the Paris Peace Treaty of 1783, into the country known as the United States was a process separate from the crucial principle established in that accord.

We are truly blessed to live in this great country and without the sacrifice of our forefathers, we would not be celebrating the 4th of July.

In His work together,

Scott Schlossberg, MBA
General Manager

Courage & Faith

(Mark 5:21-43)

The ministry of Jesus is constantly associated with God's willingness to make humanity whole. Countless people whose names we will never know came to seek the help of Jesus Christ and prayed for the healing they believed that he alone could give. The woman afflicted with hemorrhages had the courage to reach out and touch Jesus' clothes. Something within this woman told her that she would be healed by touching the hem of his garment. She took a tremendous risk venturing out to experience the healing Lord. She was taught through her Jewish faith that hemorrhages defiled her as a person and made her unclean. If she was found walking around the community in this unclean state, she faced the danger of being stoned to death. This unnamed woman has the courage to reach out for healing which defines her as a woman of faith. Her courage and faith become her saving grace. Jairus' faith similarly leads to his daughter's healing. Jesus disregards the news of the little girl's death, telling Jairus, "Do not be afraid; just have faith." Jesus shows Jairus that he sees this situation in a different way. Jesus does not see the twelve year old as dead, but asleep — waiting for the power of God to awaken her from sleep.

Jesus' power gives her new life — her destiny is in his hands. Jesus then instructs those around her to take care of her temporal needs.

The same healing remains with the Church today. Sometimes we have to have the courage to ask for healing, for what we ask in faith, we will receive. The alcoholic cannot be healed unless he realizes he has a problem with alcohol. The diabetic cannot be healed unless he admits that the need for help to regulate his sugar. The one who is depressed cannot be helped without reaching

Reflection Questions

1. How does God make your life wholesome?
2. What does it mean to be made in God's image?
3. What do you find powerful about the two people in today's gospel that come to Jesus looking for help?
4. How does the woman with the hemorrhage inspire you?
5. Name some of the things that need healed in your life.
6. Why do you think Jesus seeks the person who touched his garment?
7. In what ways has God given you the strength to rise above your suffering in the past?
8. How does God guide you each day to give others strength and courage?

out and admitting his difficulty. Many things create disease in our lives. The lack of forgiveness, holding on to resentment, and the wounds of past experiences cannot be healed by Christ unless we want them to. Jesus always brings those who ask in faith to full stature of humanity and makes them whole. He offers humanity a second chance to experience the newness of life. Jesus says, “I say to you, arise”, offering us a way out of the burdens that come our way. The words of Jesus still echo in the human heart as the Church proclaims His eternal Truth — Do not be afraid; just have faith! We are not to be afraid when confronting the realities of our lives. If we have done something wrong by sinning against God or another, we have to be contrite and ask for that forgiveness. It is at such a sacramental moment, that we can rise above our sin. When we commit ourselves to our Christian story, we are given the courage to rise above resentment and revenge and embrace the language of love that God really intended. We are reminded that we are also intercessors for others. Our faith and prayers can bring about miraculous events in our world. It is through us that Christ speaks and peace becomes a reality.

Prayer

We pray: Heavenly Father, may we have the courage to acknowledge our need for you. Without faith in you, O Lord, our lives are empty and are marked with struggle. Let us open our lives to the reality of your love and your presence which brings healing. Help us to reach out for your helping hand and enable us to help others with the constancy of our faith and prayers. Amen.

Voices of Faith

Faith

When the twists and turns of life
lead you to a place of hurt
do not stay there, venture out
to discover the Healing Lord
Reach out and touch the hem of his garment

When things go wrong around you and things start to fall apart
do not stay there, venture out
to discover the Healing Lord
Reach out and touch the hem of his garment

When death comes to visit
to take what is familiar, what is loved away,
do not stay there, venture out
to discover the Healing Lord
Reach out and touch the hem of his garment

When your faith begins to falter
and your confidence in God begins to fade
do not stay there, venture out
to discover the Healing Lord
Reach out and touch the hem of his garment

Clothed in a garment of mercy,
Jesus is a Companion to you
For he reaches into those places of hurt
into chaos, the absurdity of death, the uncertainty of doubt, and fragile faith.

In Him is the power to understand, to heal,
to bring calm, hope and the fullness of life.
So reach out and touch the hem that is always close to you.
