Bishop Nevins: Gentle Shepherd, Man of Mercy, Will Be Mourned

Reflections on Bishop John J. Nevins
1932-2014

by Fr. John J. Ludden, Pastor

Bishop Nevins was a true shepherd of the Catholic Church. He was always a pastor at heart, always ready to listen and to provide wisdom and the love of God. He totally embodied his motto, "To Serve with Mercy." People always came first and so did his priests. Many of us recall the lengthy confirmations in which he would stand speaking individually to each candidate. His fatherly advice to the youth would often move them to tears, along with their sponsors. Bishop Nevins traveled to ordain me in my local parish in rural England. During his homily, he instructed me, "Give, give, give.... Give yourself completely to Christ and his Church." He most certainly practiced what he preached!

Bishop Nevins lived a very humble life as a bishop. He would often open his house to his priests and serve them at table. He was a man's man and a priest's priest. His love for his family, friends, and people of other faiths made him light for the world and salt of the earth! He built a thriving Catholic community in Southwest Florida in which the poorest of the poor and the richest of the rich were both equally loved and cherished.

Most Reverend John J. Nevins 1932-2014

Bishop Emeritus of the Diocese of Venice in Florida

VENICE, FL — With heartfelt sorrow the Diocese of Venice in Florida announces that the Most Reverend John J. Nevins, the beloved Bishop Emeritus of the Diocese of Venice, died August 26, 2014 at his residence in Venice, Florida. Bishop Nevins served as the first bishop of the Diocese of Venice from 1984 to 2007.

Bishop John J. Nevins was born January 19, 1932 in New Rochelle, N.Y. to John and Anne (McGuire) Nevins. He attended Blessed Sacrament grammar and high schools and continued on to Iona College. After graduating from the School of Philosophy at The Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C., where he also pursued his theological studies, he earned a Master's in Social Work from Tulane University in New Orleans, La. He holds several honorary doctorates.

Ordained to the priesthood on June 6, 1959 at the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception in Washington, then-Father Nevins served the Archdiocese of Miami in many capacities for almost 25 years, including vicar general, rector of St. John Vianney Minor Seminary, and director of vocations.

On March 24, 1979, following his appointment by then-Pope John Paul II, he was ordained Auxiliary Bishop of the Archdiocese of Miami. Five years later, on July 17, 1984, Bishop Nevins was appointed by Pope John Paul II as the first Bishop of the newly formed Diocese of Venice in Florida and was installed by Archbishop Pio Laghi, Apostolic Pro Nuncio to the United States, at Epiphany Cathedral in Venice on October 25, 1984.

The Catholic population in the 10-county Diocese expanded from approximately 115,000 to more than 200,000 parishioners under his care. In an effort to meet better the spiritual needs of the burgeoning Catholic population, Bishop Nevins added 15 parishes to the original 39, and increased the number of chapels and missions to 13. He also oversaw the ordinations of 50 men to the priesthood. Bishop Nevins established a new elementary school, a school for adult formation, and two retreat centers.

Under his episcopal motto: "To Serve with Mercy," he responded to changing societal needs by instituting many Diocesan ministries, including those to migrant farm workers, unwed mothers, refugees, and people with HIV/AIDS.

Bishop Nevins served as Vice-President of the Florida Catholic Conference; and was a member of the Board of Trustees of St. Vincent de Paul Regional Seminary; a board member of St. John Vianney Seminary, Saint Leo University, the Florida Catholic newspaper, the Catholic Near East Welfare Association, and the Franciscan Foundation for the Holy Land; and a member of the USCCB National Council of Synagogues/BCEIA Dialogue Committee. He retired as Bishop of the Diocese of Venice on his 75th birthday, January 19, 2007.

The Mass of Christian Burial for Bishop Nevins was held at Epiphany Cathedral on Wednesday, September 3, 2014 at 11:00 a.m. May the soul of our beloved Bishop Emeritus John J. Nevins rest in peace.

#ToKnow – Parish Mission and Life Introduction

When Fr. John asked me to take on the responsibilities of the General Manager of St. John, it took me a few moments of discernment with my family and prayers to God to ensure it was the path that I could not only take, but could successfully serve the parish in the way you deserve. With the Family Mission focus, which includes every individual at St. John as part of our parish family, we have all taken our Holy Father’s words into our hearts and church organization with our new “wineskin”:

And so the Church always goes forward, giving space to the Holy Spirit that renews these structures, structures of the churches. Don’t be afraid of that! Don’t be afraid of the newness of the Gospel! Don’t be afraid of the newness that the Holy Spirit works in us! Don’t be afraid of the renewal of structures!” — Pope Francis 6/7/2013

(http://en.radiovaticana.va/storico/2013/07/06/pope\_francis\_the\_holy\_spirit\_renews\_our\_lives/en1-708070)

As such, this section of the bulletin (and with additional information on our website, which I highly recommend you visit regularly) will grow to include our Parish Mission and Life components. Some of the details of our parish community will now be included with the pastoral vision and story that continue to drive our efforts at St. John, To Know, To Love, and To Serve God in His Church and Our Community.

We will continue the Family Mission, especially engaging the spectrum of all our parishioners, engaging them where they are and with programs and events that enliven the Catholic faith in all of us. In addition, we will be organizing our parish around the missionary focus that our church and Pope have asked us to. I am filled with excitement, faith, and hope for the future of the St. John community. Thank you for all your support and encouragement you have provided to me. We are now on a new leg of our journey together and I am looking forward to working with each one of you.

#ToKnow – Unity in the Church

It really has become a wonder to me that Pope Francis continues to provide guidance of direct relevance to St. John. This past week, he spoke of how our church only works with unity, where we all welcome each other, forgive each other and love each other:

Dear Brothers and Sisters, We affirm in the Creed that the Church is one and that she is holy. One because she has her origin in the Triune God, mystery of unity and full communion. Holy since she is founded by Jesus Christ, enlivened by his Holy Spirit, and filled with his love and salvation. While we, the members of the Church, are sinners, the unity and holiness of the Church arise from God and call us daily to conversion. We have an intercessor in Jesus, who prays, especially in his passion, for our unity with him and the Father, and with each other. Unfortunately, we know well the sins against unity – jealousy, envy, antipathy – which come about when we place ourselves at the center and which occur even in our parish communities. God’s will, however, is that we grow in our capacity to welcome one another, to forgive and to love, and to resemble Jesus. This is the holiness of the Church – to recognize the image of God in one another. May we all examine our consciences and ask forgiveness for the times when we have given rise to division or misunderstanding in our communities, and may our relationships mirror more beautifully and joyfully the unity of Jesus and the Father.— Pope Francis 8/27/2014

Jamaica Outreach Program

Where Do Donations to the Jamaica Outreach Program Go?

Over the years, our services to the people of St Pius X have grown to the extent that we are now supplying the medical dispensary at St. Pius with medications free of charge on a regular basis ($21,000 this year). We are also funding a pre-school and a Skills Training program for young adults who need skills that will help them become employable. Awarding scholarships to St. Pius parishioners and others, plus grants for books and teaching materials for the Dupont School rounds out our commitment to support education in Jamaica.

Fr. Raphael Assamah

In addition to all of the above, we spend $3,000 a year transporting food to the Glackin/McPherson Food Pantry and $65,000 a year maintaining the St. Pius X parish and grounds. Furnishing the JOP dental clinic with needed repairs, instruments and supplies is an ongoing expense ($13,000 so far this year). Printing and mailing costs play an important role in getting our message out to our loyal donors. Last but not least we have generous donors who have supported our housing initiative and have helped to move over 500

Jamaican families into homes of their own. A roof overhead and a locked door is a luxury for the people we serve.

Next week a second collection will benefit St. Pius X parish, helping the new pastor, Father Raphael, meet salary and maintenance expenses. A generous response to this collection will be a warm welcoming gesture to this first time pastor who will be visiting us in February along with Kevin Williams and his choir. We thank you in advance for your continued support of our sister parish in Kingston, Jamaica.

OFFICE OF THE BISHOP

August 22, 2014

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

The Catholic Church throughout the world mourns the terrible crisis, loss of life and suffering of those innocent victims in the Middle East, the cradle of Christianity. Many families are fleeing the areas and large numbers are being displaced. The continuation of this crisis causes great despair, panic and hopelessness to the innocent victims.

Given the extraordinary nature of this crisis, the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops is asking that a special collection be taken up to provide humanitarian relief and pastoral support for our effected brothers and sisters in the Middle East. The funds will be used by Catholic Relief Services and other agencies which are well established partnerships with the Catholic Church in the region. These agencies will strive to meet the most urgent humanitarian needs. Your generosity will help those victims struggling to protect their children, themselves, and their lives in these dire conditions. Going forward the funds will provide them an opportunity hopefully to rebuild their lives.

This special Collection is scheduled for the weekend of September 13-14, 2014 in the Diocese of Venice. This is the perfect occasion for us to support our brothers and sisters in need at the time of their crisis.

I take this opportunity to extend to you my continued consideration and my prayers! Thank you for your generosity for this population so in need at this time.

Sincerely yours in Christ,

+ Frank J. Dewane
Bishop of the Diocese of Venice in Florida

The Word & Life

Blessed Assurance

Life is not easy at times because of things that come our way. The hardest challenge for humanity is that of relationship. If one steps back to look at Scripture and to consider what is taking place throughout the Old and New Testaments, one will quickly come to the conclusion that the Scripture is all about relationship. The Word of God tells the story of humanity's relationship with God and itself. The history of the world records the great accomplishments of humanity but also bears the scars of marred relationships. The most unpleasant reality for us as a people is to deal with awkward relationships. There are many things that cause friction within relationship. Motivation to control or the reality of stress often affects relationships.

In today's gospel, Jesus confronts a very human problem, that of one person sinning against another. He offers very practical advice to his listeners. His message is clear — if you have a problem with your brother, then go to him to resolve it. Jesus goes on to say that if this fails then seek the help of friends, if unsuccessful, the Church. If everything fails after much effort, Jesus says treat that brother as you would a Gentile — at a respectable distance. Jesus gives blessed assurance to his disciples by telling them that whenever two or three gather in his name, he will be in the midst of them. By invoking Jesus' name to help us deal with conflict, we are promised that he will always be there to advise and inspire, to heal and to forgive. Just as when we gather in Jesus' name, we are given the wisdom and courage to transcend the quarrels and the hurts of this life.

Reflection Questions

1. What is challenging about Jesus' approach to problematic situations?
2. How does this gospel challenge our litigious society?
3. Why is forgiveness a central theme of the gospel?
4. How have you embraced the gift of forgiveness in your life?
5. In what ways does Jesus' wisdom help you to bring reconciliation to your difficult relationships?
6. Are you courageous and strong enough to live this radical call to forgive? Why/why not?

The Good News today is telling us to approach the difficulties of relationship directly. People often react to problems in relationships too quickly by voicing anger and rage. This takes what is an already tenuous problem to another level, making more difficult to resolve. In our quest to justify our own anger and rage we often let others know of someone's sin. This action causes the person, who made a mistake or sinned, to be embarrassed, often makes matters worse. Sometimes we just need to pray about how to confront the difficulties in relationships. It is important to seek the wisdom of Jesus by asking: what would Jesus do in this situation? Any response to this question would empower us to do what is right and loving.

Paul reminds us in Romans that the commandments may be summed up very easily by loving your neighbor as yourself. If we make mistakes, we like to be forgiven and to resolve the mistake. In the same way, if others make mistakes, we need to treat them as we would expect them to treat us. The Christian call is one of reconciliation and healing — to bind up wounds and let the oppressed go free. Contrite people can continue to hurt because others will not let go of the fact that they have sinned against them. This makes them a slave to their sin. The simple, practical message of the Scripture today is most certainly blessed assurance for all of us who take this advice to heart. Forgiveness is the hardest gift to grasp but it is, nonetheless, at the heart of Jesus' message.

Prayer

Dear Lord, help us to understand ourselves. When someone sins against us, inspire our hearts to take the path of reconciliation. Speak to the hearts of those who will not let go of past hurts, so they may find the grace to forgive. Lead and guide us down the pathways of righteousness and truth. Amen.

Reflecting on the Sunday Readings with Fr. John J. Ludden, Pastor

Wisdom of the Fathers

“With deep conviction therefore I wish to appeal to everyone to seek peace along the paths of forgiveness. I am fully aware that forgiveness can seem contrary to human logic, which often yields to the dynamics of conflict and revenge. But forgiveness is inspired by the logic of love, that love which God has for every man and woman, for every people and nation, and for the whole human family. If the Church dares to proclaim what, from a human standpoint, might appear to be sheer folly, it is precisely because of her unshakable confidence in the infinite love of God...

...Jesus not only taught his disciples the duty to forgive, but he also intended his Church to be the sign and instrument of his plan of reconciliation, making her the sacrament “of intimate union with God, and of the unity of all humanity”...

...Brother Bishops and priests: be mirrors of the merciful love of God not only in the ecclesial community, but also in civil society, especially where nationalistic and ethnic conflicts are raging. In spite of the sufferings you may have to endure, do not let hatred enter your hearts, but joyfully proclaim Christ's Gospel and dispense God's forgiveness through the Sacrament of Reconciliation.

To you parents, the first educators of your children in the faith, I ask you to help your children to look upon all people as their brothers and sisters, to reach out to others without prejudice, with an attitude of trust and acceptance. Be for your children a reflection of God's love and forgiveness; make every effort to create a united and harmonious family.

And you educators, called to teach young people the true values of life by introducing them to the complexity of history and human culture, help them to live in every situation the virtues of tolerance, understanding and respect; hold up to them as models those who have been artisans of peace and reconciliation.

You young people, who cherish great hopes in your hearts, learn to live with one another in peace, without building barriers which stop you from sharing the treasures of other cultures and traditions. Respond to violence with works of peace, in order to build a world which is reconciled and fully human.

You men and women in public life, called to serve the common good, exclude no one from your concerns; take special care of the weakest sectors of society. Do not put your personal advantage above all else; do not give in to the lure of corruption and, above all, face even the most difficult situations with the weapons of peace and reconciliation.

To you who work in the mass media, I ask you to consider the great responsibilities which your profession involves, and never to be promoters of messages marked by hatred, violence or falsehood. Always keep in mind the truth of the human person, whose welfare the powerful means of communication are meant to serve.

Finally, to all of you who believe in Christ, I address an invitation to walk faithfully on the path of forgiveness and reconciliation, uniting yourselves to his prayer to the Father that all may be one (cf. Jn 17:21). And I exhort you to accompany this unceasing prayer for peace with deeds of brotherhood and mutual acceptance.

To every person of good will, eager to work tirelessly in the building of a new civilization of love, I say once more:

Offer forgiveness and receive peace!”

— Saint John Paul II - World Day of Peace January 1st, 1997

WHAT IS CONFIRMATION?

There are three Sacraments of Initiation into Christian life: Baptism, Confirmation, and Eucharist. The three work together to help us take our place in the Body of Christ. In Confirmation the Baptized “are bound more perfectly to the Church; they are endowed with special strength of the Holy Spirit, are thus more strictly obliged, as true witnesses of Christ, to spread and defend the faith by word and deed” (Dogmatic Constitution on the Church). In fact, to complete the Sacraments of Initiation, Confirmation must be received if the grace of Baptism is to have its full effect. Upon our Confirmation we are given a new and deeper relationship with the Holy Spirit, we receive the indelible mark of Confirmation, and we are given greater strength to profess, defend and spread the faith – the job of every follower of Christ. When the bishop, the ordinary minister of Confirmation, lays hands, anoints with chrism, and says, “Be sealed with the gift of the Holy Spirit, “we are completely filled with the Holy Spirit.

PRAYER

Love is patient;
love is kind;
love is not envious
or boastful or arrogant or rude.

Love does not insist
on its own way;
it is not irritable or resentful;
it does not rejoice
in wrongdoing,
but rejoices in the truth.
It bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things.

—1 Corinthians 13:4-8

Tips for academic and spiritual growth this school year

A new school year is an opportune time to recommit to your child’s academic and spiritual growth. Try these tips:

Pray through the day. The key to spiritual growth is prayer. Make prayer central to your family life. Pray together before the school bus comes or when you are in the car on the way. Pray before meals and bedtime. And ask your children what they would like you to pray for. That lets them know you will be thinking and praying for them during the day.

Family meal. Make every effort to gather for family dinners each night. Start with prayer and focus on conversation. Don’t let anything interfere with this family time.

Homework help. Give youngsters a quiet environment in which to do homework, the supplies necessary to do the job, support and supervision. Treat religious education homework with the importance of any core subject.

Share the love. As often as you can, tell children how much you love them and be generous with hugs and kisses.

Why do we say the “Fatima Prayer?”

When our blessed Mother appeared to the children at Fatima in 1917, she asked them to add this prayer after each decade of the Rosary: “Oh, my Jesus, forgive us our sins. Save us from the fires of hell. Lead all souls to Heaven, especially those who have most need of Thy mercy.”

A Free Ecclesiastical Latin Course Will Be Offered at St. John This Fall

Saint John the Evangelist is very pleased to announce that a free course in Ecclesiastical Latin will be offered here at the parish this fall. We proudly introduce parishioner Steven Fachada, who teaches Latin, Greek, and Art History at the Community School of Naples. Participants will first learn the basic structure of the grammar and then turn to an examination of a range of Latin texts such as passages from the Gospels, the parts of the Mass, and other familiar prayers. No previous knowledge of Latin is expected or required.

Sessions will take place on Tuesday evenings from 6.00 until 8.00, beginning in late September or early October. If you are interested, please contact the instructor either by e-mail: sfachada@communityschoolnaples.org or by telephone 239.597.7575, ext. 418 for more information.

This is a rare and wonderful opportunity which we hope many will avail themselves of, since we have such a great resource here. Having acquired graduate degrees in the history of art (Courtauld Institute of Art, London) and business administration (London Business School), Mr. Fachada worked for several years as a researcher at the National Gallery, London. A lifelong interest in the languages and culture of ancient Greece and Rome has been the impetus to his study of the classical world, especially as it manifested itself in central Italy in the fifteenth century. His other interests include theatre, both ancient and modern, opera and the music of the Baroque. He is a member of the Joint Association of Classical Teachers (London).

Thursday, September 25, 2014

Please join us as we welcome Gabi Frei, a gifted Catholic musician and singer, who will share her personal faith journey through a mixture of original songs and a few more known praise and worship songs. Gabi's music shows how she has surrendered her heart to God's will.

As women and mothers, Gabi believes "Our vocation is one that necessitates constant rejuvenation, constant openness to His grace and strength. But that is our life - we can be full of grace because HE is generous and gives us what we need to endure each moment. Our cup can overflow into our families and communities because He first fills it. Surrender to His will places us in perfect position to receive all He has in store, all the grace, all the strength, all the promises. And Mary is our model - we echo her Magnificat, her "yes", unified with Jesus saying not my will but yours to the Father."
