Code of Christian Conduct

Jesus was a teacher; the disciples were his students. Jesus taught the disciples that each of them was a reflection of God, the Father, even when they disagreed with one another. So, the disciples not only learned from Jesus, but learned from one another as well.

Therefore, in the class as well as at home, I will be respectful of adults and other young people with whom I interact.

Jesus never told a parable or a story to the crowds without praying for long hours first. It was important for the Son of God to prepare for each day and each activity so he would be sure to say and do the right thing.

Therefore, I will prepare for Faith Formation by reading the assignment and completing the homework before coming to class, if that is asked of me.

Jesus never told people something that he himself wasn't willing to do. He lives the kind of life that made his Father, who was God, proud of him.

Therefore, I will be an example at church and at home to those who would want to know what Jesus would do in a particular situation.

Jesus told people that things that often made them uncomfortable, even though these things were the truth for example, he said that if the things you owned were more important than the people around you, you could not enter heaven.

Therefore, I will tell my friends the truth, when they do things that Jesus would not have done, especially if they try and get me to do something that is wrong. I am a child of God, who is destined for heaven.
