The Memorare

Remember, O most gracious Virgin Mary, that never was it known that anyone who fled to thy protection, implored thy help, or sought thine intercession was left unaided.

Inspired by this confidence, I fly unto thee, O Virgin of virgins, my mother; to thee do I come, before thee I stand, sinful and sorrowful. O Mother of the Word Incarnate, despise not my petitions, but in thy mercy hear and answer me. Amen.

A Prayer for World Peace

Dear God, thank You for all creation. In the spirit of Jesus of Nazareth and all teachers of peace who inspire the many faith traditions, help me and all the people of the world learn how to replace hate, war, oppression, and division with love, peace, freedom, and reconciliation. Help me to embody Your love in my relationships with my family, friends, strangers – even my enemies. I commit myself to this sacred task throughout my life. So let it be. Amen.

Catholic Prayer For Ukraine

O Lord our God, look down with mercy on the Ukrainian people. Protect and save them from the unjust aggressors who seek to subdue them. Grant them steadfast trust in your mercy and protection.

O Mother of God, who gave us your miraculous icon at Zarvanytsia, intercede for the Ukrainian people, who run to the shelter of your mercy in their times of need.

O Lord Jesus Christ, have mercy on us. Grant peace and protection to the people of Ukraine. Give them strength and courage to defend what is good, right, and holy. Keep them safe from harm and provide for all their needs, both temporal and spiritual.

Hear our prayers, O Lord, and deliver us from distress, for You are merciful and compassionate and love mankind. To You we give glory: the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit, now and forever and ever. Amen.

Gospel Reflections

Gospel Reflections with Father Tom

The Parable of the Prodigal Son is probably the best known and best loved of all Jesus' parables, yet some maintain that it is an unfair story. They feel sorry for the older son, convinced that he got a raw deal. Some think the younger son should have been punished. He should have been taught a lesson. Let's see if such an attitude is justified.

The younger son was determined to have his fling. He set out for a city where appetites of every kind could be satisfied. But when his money ran out, the bright lights faded, and all doors were closed against him. He felt sorry for himself. His own pain made him realize the pain he had caused to his father. So he said to himself: "I will go back to my father and tell him I'm sorry." It was a brave decision, and it took a lot of courage to carry it out. It's not easy to say 'sorry' even over a trivial matter.

The journey back was a sad, lonely, fearful one. It's easy to come back home when you're a hero laden with trophies and glory. But the prodigal son had no trophies to show his father, no achievements with which to earn his praise, his welcome, and his love. He was coming home empty-handed. Worse, he was coming home laden with shame and disgrace.

Everything was out of his hands. Suppose his father didn't accept him back. What would he do then? He deserved to be punished – and he knew it and even asked for it. Yet punishment was the last thing he needed. In any case, he had already been punished. He didn't have a good time. Maybe he had pleasure, but he certainly had no joy. He had suffered a lot – hunger, loneliness, degradation of soul, the pain of remorse, the sense of betrayal. Each sin of his had brought its sure, swift penalty along with it. To sin is to suffer. He didn't need more punishment.

Nor did he need to be taught a lesson. He had already learned a lesson – something which is far more important. He had learned some very painful truths about himself, about others, and about life. He had eaten forbidden fruit, and far from being satisfied, he was left with a bitter taste in his mouth. If he had met with rejection it would have destroyed him.

What happened? When the father saw his lost son coming towards him, his heart went out to him, and the next minute they were in each other's arms. The father didn't just accept him back. He welcomed him back. All was forgiven.

The biggest discovery the younger son made was that he was loved in his sins. The father never stopped loving him. It doesn't do one much good to be loved in one's goodness. But it is an extraordinary experience to be loved in one's sinfulness. Such love is like a breeze to a dying fire, or rain falling on parched ground. This is what grace is about. Those who have experienced this kind of love know something about the heart of God.

God's forgiveness is not a cold, half-hearted forgiveness, but a warm and generous one. God doesn't just forgive us; he loves us and lets us know it. The story doesn't give us a license to sin, but it does show that if, through human weakness we do sin, we can come back. Our past can be overcome. We can make a fresh start.

Prayers

Penitential Act

I confess to almighty God
and to you, my brothers and sisters, that I have greatly sinned,
in my thoughts and in my words,
in what I have done and in what I have failed to do,

through my fault, through my fault,
through my most grievous fault;

therefore I ask blessed Mary ever-Virgin,
all the Angels and Saints, and you, my brothers and sisters,
to pray for me to the Lord our God.

The Lord's Prayer

Our Father, Who art in heaven, hallowed be Thy name; Thy kingdom come; Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread; and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us;
and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.

Communion Prayer

Lord, I am not worthy that you should enter under my roof,
but only say the word
and my soul shall be healed.

The Nicene Creed

I believe in one God, the Father almighty, maker of heaven and earth, of all things visible and invisible.

I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God, born of the Father before all ages. God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God, begotten, not made, consubstantial with the Father; through him all things were made. For us men and for our salvation he came down from heaven, and by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary, and became man. For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate, he suffered death and was buried, and rose again on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures. He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father. He will come again in glory to judge the living, and the dead and his kingdom will have no end.

I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life, who proceeds from the Father and the Son, who with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified, who has spoken through the prophets.

I believe in one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church.
I confess one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins, and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead and the life of the world to come. Amen.

Readings for the Fourth Sunday of Lent

Reading I
Jos 5:9a, 10-12

The LORD said to Joshua, "Today I have removed the reproach of Egypt from you." While the Israelites were encamped at Gilgal on the plains of Jericho, they celebrated the Passover on the evening of the fourteenth of the month. On the day after the Passover, they ate of the produce of the land in the form of unleavened cakes and parched grain. On that same day after the Passover, on which they ate of the produce of the land, the manna ceased. No longer was there manna for the Israelites, who that year ate of the yield of the land of Canaan.

Responsorial Psalm
Ps 34:2-3, 4-5, 6-7

R. (9a) Taste and see the goodness of the Lord.

I will bless the LORD at all times; his praise shall be ever in my mouth. Let my soul glory in the LORD; the lowly will hear me and be glad.

R. Taste and see the goodness of the Lord.

Glorify the LORD with me, let us together extol his name. I sought the LORD, and he answered me and delivered me from all my fears.

R. Taste and see the goodness of the Lord.

Look to him that you may be radiant with joy, and your faces may not blush with shame. When the poor one called out, the LORD heard, and from all his distress he saved him.

R. Taste and see the goodness of the Lord.

Reading II
2 Cor 5:17-21

Brothers and sisters: Whoever is in Christ is a new creation: the old things have passed away; behold, new things have come. And all this is from God, who has reconciled us to himself through Christ and given us the ministry of reconciliation, namely, God was reconciling the world to himself in Christ, not counting their trespasses against them and entrusting to us the message of reconciliation. So we are ambassadors for Christ, as if God were appealing through us. We implore you on behalf of Christ, be reconciled to God. For our sake he made him to be sin who did not know sin, so that we might become the righteousness of God in him.

Verse Before the Gospel
Lk 15:18

I will get up and go to my Father and shall say to him: Father, I have sinned against heaven and against you.

Gospel
Lk 15:1-3, 11-32

Tax collectors and sinners were all drawing near to listen to Jesus, but the Pharisees and scribes began to complain, saying, "This man welcomes sinners and eats with them." So to them Jesus addressed this parable: "A man had two sons, and the younger son said to his father, 'Father give me the share of your estate that should come to me.' So the father divided the property between them. After a few days, the younger son collected all his belongings and set off to a distant country where he squandered his inheritance on a life of dissipation. When he had freely spent everything, a severe famine struck that country, and he found himself in dire need. So he hired himself out to one of the local citizens who sent him to his farm to tend the swine. And he longed to eat his fill of the pods on which the swine fed, but nobody gave him any. Coming to his senses he thought, 'How many of my father's hired workers have more than enough food to eat, but here am I, dying from hunger. I shall get up and go to my father and I shall say to him, 'Father, I have sinned against heaven and against you. I no longer deserve to be called your son; treat me as you would treat one of your hired workers.'" So he got up and went back to his father. While he was still a long way off, his father caught sight of him, and was filled with compassion. He ran to his son, embraced him and kissed him. His son said to him, 'Father, I have sinned against heaven and against you; I no longer deserve to be called your son.' But his father ordered his servants, 'Quickly bring the finest robe and put it on him; put a ring on his finger and sandals on his feet. Take the fattened calf and slaughter it. Then let us celebrate with a feast, because this son of mine was dead, and has come to life again; he was lost, and has been found.' Then the celebration began. Now the older son had been out in the field and, on his way back, as he neared the house, he heard the sound of music and dancing. He called one of the servants and asked what this might mean. The servant said to him, 'Your brother has returned and your father has slaughtered the fattened calf because he has him back safe and sound.' He became angry, and when he refused to enter the house, his father came out and pleaded with him. He said to his father in reply, 'Look, all these years I served you and not once did I disobey your orders; yet you never gave me even a young goat to feast on with my friends. But when your son returns who swallowed up your property with prostitutes, for him you slaughter the fattened calf.' He said to him, 'My son, you are here with me always; everything I have is yours. But now we must celebrate and rejoice, because your brother was dead and has come to life again; he was lost and has been found.'"

Join us for our monthly Encounter on the Mountain: A Holy Hour of Praise and Adoration on Friday, April 1, 2022, at 7:00 p.m. in the church or online at sjecc.com.

Our theme of the evening is "At the Cross." The Lenten Holy Hour will be filled with praise and worship music, meditation, and silent prayer. This will be a wonderful opportunity to receive the Sacrament of Confession during Lent, as confessions will be available through the evening. This is a beautiful way to spend some time with the Lord during the Lenten season.

Upcoming Talk for Parents and Grandparents: Featuring Dr. Mariette Danilo, Ph.D.

Raising Kids in Challenging Times: Religion as a Protective Factor

Young people today experience more stress and anxiety and are at risk for more problem behaviors today than ever before. This has been compounded by the isolation, chronic stress, and uncertainty created by the Covid-19 pandemic. We can't put our kids in a bubble, but what if we could "inoculate" them? Psychologist and researcher, Dr. Mariette Danilo will discuss resilience and how we can help our children navigate and find joy in a challenging world.

The good news is that the research has identified Religion as a "protective factor" for kids.

Join us as we cut through the hype and discuss the real sources of self-esteem, motivation, joy, and optimism.

Wednesday, April 13th – 5:45-6:45 p.m. – Nazareth Room of the Pulte Family Life Center.
To register please send an email to aff@sjecc.com.

A researcher in the Institute for Health Behavior Research at the Cornell University Medical College-New York Hospital Center, she has lectured extensively on Health Psychology and Adolescent Risk Behavior. Her research has focused on the cognitive, emotional, and psychosocial variables involved in the prediction and prevention of risk taking and health compromising behaviors. Her work emphasizes the role of religion as a protective factor in adolescent development.

Mariette currently serves as Director of Education for the Saint John Vianney Center (SJVC) in Downingtown, PA, where she creates educational programs for seminarians, newly ordained priests, men and women religious, diocesan priests, and vicars for clergy. These programs include topics in addictive behaviors, stress and anger management, setting boundaries with forgiveness, and conflict transition.

Dr. Danilo also implements "Safe Dating" programs where teenagers learn to recognize abusive behaviors and set limits for others so that they are better prepared in the future to navigate the college environment.

Mariette enjoys speaking with educators and parents about the vital and dynamic relationship between psychology and religion.

OFFICE OF THE BISHOP

March 2022

Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

Catholic Relief Services (CRS) is dedicated to aiding people affected by war and natural disasters, assisting migrants and refugees in need of material support, as well as working with people worldwide whose livelihoods are impacted by changing political and environmental conditions.

By contributing to this vital collection, you provide emergency relief to those affected by disasters, as well as long-term solutions that improve the lives of families. One such example is the CRS-supported program that teaches Guatemalan coffee farmers practices such as soil-quality identification, use of cover crops and better compost. Through this program, the farmers, many of them women, learn the skills necessary to produce bigger and healthier harvests, which, in turn, provide for their family.

The CRS Collection in the Diocese of Venice will take place the weekend of March 26 and 27, 2022. Please consider generously supporting this vital collection and stand in solidarity with the poor and marginalized around the world. In addition, please do not forget to pray for the needy.

I take this opportunity to assure you and your family of my continued consideration as well as my prayers during this Lenten Season. Thank you for the good that you do for others!

Sincerely yours in Christ,

+ Frank J. Dewane
